Friday, October 28th
ALL DAY LONG!

For ONE DAY ONLY, these generous local businesses have joined together to collectively donate a percentage of ALL sales towards fighting Fanconi anemia, a life-threatening blood disease that affects many children each year including FSU Head Football Coach Jimbo Fisher and Candi Fisher's son, Ethan.

Kidz1stFund was created by the Fishers to raise awareness and funds in support of research to fight Fanconi anemia, a rare but serious blood disease. New treatments are being developed, and breakthroughs are on the horizon, but defeating this illness will require the help of generous souls from every walk of life.
